Hansell Elected by Big Majority Defeating Former U.F.A. Member

Social Creditors Replace U. F. A. as Alberta Federal Representatives Capturing 15 of 17 Seats.

Coleman Polling Sub-divisions.	Coote	Hansell	Matthewson	McKenna
Carbondale.....	12	40	9	14
W. Coleman.....	22	86	11	40
Community Hall.....	112	392	73	71
Totals.....	146	518	93	125

The total vote, not including spoiled ballots, was 882. In the Provincial election of Aug. 22, the total vote, not including spoiled ballots, was 1190, showing that 308 less votes were polled.

The results recorded on Tuesday morning for the entire constituency of Macleod were:

Hansell (S. C.).....	6980
Coote (C. C. F.).....	3476
Matthewson (Cons.).....	2112
McKenna (Lib.).....	1755

Against the total votes for the Social Credit candidate, 6980, there were polled 7343 among the other three candidates, indicating that a minority vote elected Mr. Hansell, he being short of an actual majority of the total votes cast by 363.

He gave a short message to the electors through CFCN radio station on Monday night, thanking all who had supported him. He stated his opponents had fought a clean fight, and their problems would be his.

Coote Faithful to His Trust

Macleod constituency loses a good representative in Geo. G. Coote. Faithfully he worked for his former constituents, having been first elected as a U. F. A. member in 1921 and retaining his seat through three Dominion elections. He gave careful attention to every request made by his constituents during his membership in the House of Commons. The people who elected him to Parliament have turned to Social Credit, as indicated by the majority given to Rev. E. G. Hansell, newly elected member. Such is the fickleness of public opinion, which every man with experience in public life knows only too well.

Teacher's Sudden Death at Bellevue

Unusual circumstances attended the death of Joe Strauch, age about 21 years, a school teacher of Bellevue, who only a day or two before his death had drawn his first pay cheque from Bellevue school board.

He had been to a dance on Saturday evening, Oct. 5, and sometime between 7.30 a.m. and 11 a.m. Sunday morning he died in bed. His father arose and spoke briefly to his son, who feeling tired decided to stay in bed for awhile. That was the last his father or others in the house heard from him. Next time someone went to his room to find if he was going to arise, he was dead, and the body was already cold.

It was only recently this young man returned from Peace River district. His father is employed in the local mine, and recently lost one eye, while the mother died about six years ago. This young man's death was regretted by a large number of young people, among whom he was very popular. The funeral was held at Bellevue.

Car Accident on Sunday

Driving eastward on Sunday a Pontiac car owned by Pete Nikitish, which was being driven by another man, though Nikitish was in the car, overturned about half way between Coleman and Blairmore. There were three men and four children in the car. First survey of the accident gave the impression that some of the occupants were severely injured. All were removed to Coleman hospital. The only one detained for further attention was a little girl, Olga Carpenchuk, the others being discharged after receiving attention at the hospital.

Further information elicited by the R. C. M. P. enquiry reveals that Jakow Kohanko of Canal Flats, was driving the car. The party had a few minutes prior to the accident left a house in East Coleman where a wedding celebration was in progress. The car went into the ditch on the south side and finished up on the north side ditch, dislodging a very large boulder and pushing it along some distance. Some eye-witnesses state the car was travelling as high as 65 miles an hour. The car occupants stated it was only going 25 or 30.

Going Strong at 88 Years

"Cap." W. A. Beebe of Blairmore recently visited the Mayo Institute, Rochester, Minn. The doctors of that famous institution expressed their surprise at his fine physical condition, which entirely belies his advanced age of 88 years. Here's hoping "Cap." will long be spared to lend his knowledge and wisdom to the councils of his friends in the Crow's Nest Pass. Incidentally, on his return trip, he met an old friend of the editor at North Portal, who is in the Customs service there.

Prize winners at the Caledonian whist drive and dance on Friday evening were Mrs. Wm. Pryde, Mrs. S. Penny, Dan McLellan and Steve Penny. Fifteen tables were in play.

Election Day Quiet Here

Interest Not as Intense as in Provincial Election—Radio Brought Speedy Returns Polling

Coleman, in common with most other rural points, was quiet on election day. Polling proceeded steadily, but through a number of qualified electors being left off the lists, and a lessening of interest, there was nearly 400 short of the number who voted in the provincial election on August 22, including the spoiled ballots. With the closing of the polls, people settled down to their radios and the early returns from the Mar- itimes indicated a Liberal victory quite early. The tide spread on ward into Quebec and Ontario, so that before the western provinces began to report, it was quite clear that a Liberal administration would govern Canada for the next five years.

As expected, Social Credit swept this province, with the exception of Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett being returned in Calgary West and J. A. McKinnon, Liberal, in Edmonton West. The U. F. A. candidates (Continued on Page Eight)

Aberhart Seeks Finan- 221 Entries For cial Aid From Federal Music Festival Govt. To Help Alberta Next Week

Will Proceed to Ottawa to Confer With Premier King on Problems of Province

West Canadian and Kimberley Brass Bands To Compete in the Closing Program

Shortly after Premier Aberhart's party was elected on Aug. 14, he went to Ottawa for a loan of over $18,000,000 from the federal government. Premier Bennett could only loan him $2,225,000, sufficient to carry on till the end of his (Bennett's) term of office, as he had no power beyond that time to enter into contracts.

Now that the Conservative party has been voted out of office, Mr. Aberhart will have to approach Premier King for further financial accommodation. He states he will proceed to Ottawa as soon as the new government is settled in office. It is reported that no resumption has yet been made of payment on withdrawal of provincial savings certificates. Shortly before the Reid government went out of office, payment was suspended, owing to unusual heavy withdrawals, and there not being sufficient cash in sight at that time to meet demands.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest F. Gareau family are leaving for Trochu, where Mr. Gare is taking over the weekly newspaper. They returned early in the summer from San Francisco, and in the meantime have been living here. Their friends will wish them well in their new location. Mr. Gare was publisher of The Journal from 1921 to 1927, and for a time lived in Vancouver after leaving here.

The secretary of the festival committee reported this morning having received 113 entries for vocal classes, 65 in stringed instruments, 43 pianoforte entries and two brass bands. It is likely entries will exceed those of last year, and a successful three days is looked forward to, commencing on Thanksgiving Day and continuing on Friday and Saturday.

Coleman Young People Married
Two weddings of interest took place in Coleman this week when Miss Mary Spievak became the bride of Mr. Tony Sarvelli of Fernie.

Miss Corrie Goldring of Coleman became the bride of Frank Krish of Frank. The wedding took place at St. Paul's United church, Rev. C. Taylor officiating, the bridal couple being attended by little bridesmaids in white.

The Relief Expenditure Burden

With the Federal elections over and the political complexion of the next Parliament of Canada defined, the government of the country will be faced with a number of important problems to decide, and not the least of these is the question of the steps which must be taken to ease the debt burden of governmental units in Western Canada.

By governmental units is meant the governments of the provinces and of the municipalities, urban and rural.

During the past five years the public finances of the Western Canadian provinces and of the municipalities, which are their creatures, have been strained to the breaking point to meet the problems which drought and general unemployment have brought in their train.

Not only has the public purse of the Western provinces and of the municipalities been depleted in the struggle to ensure that their citizens should not starve, freeze or go shelterless in their grim fight against great odds, but they have been obliged to pledge their future resources, to an alarming extent, to enable the citizens of the present generation to keep their heads above water.

In the three prairie provinces millions of dollars have been spent to furnish a substantial percentage of the population with food, fuel and clothing, and in the urban centres with shelter as well; and this, despite the fact that the Federal government has also contributed large sums to bolster up the provinces and the municipalities in their fight to ensure the necessities of life for their people.

In addition, however, to the money which has been expended out of current revenues these provincial and municipal governments have pledged many more millions of dollars against the credit of the future earning power of the people, a debt which will have to be liquidated in the future either by the taxpayers of to-day or by the rising generation, or a combination of both.

Without going into statistics which, at the best, make dry reading, it is axiomatic to say that the indebtedness which has been piled up on this count, directly and indirectly, reaches a staggering total and has passed the figure which is within the competence of these governmental units to meet from existing resources.

One of the conditions contributing to the existing condition of the finances of the Western provinces and municipalities is the inequity of the distribution of the tax burden as between individual taxpayers and the inequity of the distribution of the bases of taxation as between the federal, provincial and municipal governing entities.

The financial situation which has developed as a result of these inequities is one which will have to be faced and remedied by the newly-elected Parliament if the Western provinces and municipalities are to remain solvent and are to be enabled to extricate themselves from a position which has become intolerable.

So far as the municipal governments are concerned, their financial plight has been accentuated by practical limitation to reality as, at least, the principal tax base, and this applies to both rural and urban, only in different degree. Land has more than passed the limit of its endurance as a source of revenue for governments. Other spheres of taxation are denied the municipalities; and this is one discriminatory feature which will have to be remedied.

In seeking additional sources of revenue municipalities are cramped by legislative action of their superior provinces and the provinces in turn are hampered by Federal authority.

What is needed is a nation-wide conference in which the municipalities can get together with the provinces and the Dominion and, in a spirit of tolerance and reconciliation, of one another, come to an agreement which will provide for specific delimitation of spheres of taxation and a definite understanding that the several governmental units will not in future encroach upon one another's taxation preserves.

This understanding should be translated into legislative enactment and if it involves amendments to the British North America Act, as undoubtedly it would, efforts should be made to secure the necessary sanction.

The problem of relief, it has been reiterated by competent authorities time and again, is a national one. The provinces have said so. The urban municipalities have said so and the rural municipalities hold the same view, even if they have not adopted resolutions in convention to that effect.

If the Federal government is not prepared to recognize the situation in the west as a national problem, the only alternative is for the Federal government to make it possible for the provinces and municipalities to liquidate past, present and future expenditures by providing them with the machinery to levy the money where the money is available.

Norway Has Queer Tax

"Sparrow tax" is a levy most annoying to the farmers of Jikjyven, Norway, and is one of the most unusual in Europe. For years past offered up by the pastor of the Nyrirken Church at Bergen against crop ruin by the birds, each farmer must pay 30 kronor annually, or about $7.50. The tillers of the soil say that they receive little for their money, since the sparrows continue to attack the harvests.

The problem was whether the taste for disease of sleeping sickness, when it had developed in a human being and had afterward been transmitted from him to another animal would retain sufficient virulence in that animal to infect man again. In the course of several experiments all three men suffered from the disease, infected with the germs of sleeping sickness. Their chance of recovery depended on a drug and happily it proved effective.

Beauty in Old London

Pictures Of Infinite Variety Can Be Seen From Great Bridges

Old St. Paul's, perched high on Ludgate Hill, once a commanding position, is being gradually crowded out by other buildings. The most impressive sight of Wren's venerable cathedral is that looking from Fleet-street up Ludgate Hill, I have heard jaded newspaper men, familiar with Fleet-street at all hours of the day and night, grow lyrical about the loveliness of that glimpse of St. Paul's at dawn.

A great white London seems to have sprung up like magic. But it has not obliterated the past, and one of the charms of a walk through the city is the unexpected glimpses one gets through its narrow courts and alleys of old towers, little shops and ivied churches that have stood unchanging through the centuries.

It has been said that one cannot walk a hundred yards in London without seeing a bunch of trees. That is almost completely true. In fact there are enough trees in the London streets and squares to make up, if placed together, a very respectable forest. Who has ever noted that there are over seventy trees in the Strand?

But nothing excels the river views. Wherever one looks, or from whatever angle of the seven great bridges from the Tower to Lambeth, there is picture after picture of infinite variety and beauty. At night, when the Embankment sparkles with its thousand lights, the view from the bridges of London's curving water-front has the quality of pure magic. No Whistler nocturne could do it justice.—Overseas Daily Mail.

Making An Empire

Britain Did Not Accomplish It By Force Of Arms

Signor Mussolini adroitly sought to weaken the influence of British efforts to avert war with these words: "My only desire is to serve my country as did the great Englishmen who built up the British Empire. But the great Englishmen, lacking aeroplanes and poison gas, went into the unknown lands, not in vast numbers, but in small parties. Once a few of them came to Australia with a man named James Cook. They did not show the aborigines to fight with cannon, but found it sufficient when opposed to a few pellets into the legs of a hostile native. That was the invasion of Australia. It can hardly be described as a conquest by force of arms. True, here and there in the Empire there has been fighting, and in the dark past deeds have been done which people of British blood would not dream of doing today; but it is to the solitary explorer and to little hands of navigators that the making of Empire must be credited.—Melbourne Australasian.

Serum For Paralysis

Demonstration Is Made Of New Treatment For Dread Disease

A serum he said was as positive and effective in the treatment of infantile paralysis as the serum widely used in treating diphtheria was demonstrated by Dr. E. C. Rosenow of the Mayo Foundation, University of Minnesota, before members of the Kentucky State Medical Association. The serum, Dr. Rosenow told the assembled physicians and surgeons, is the result of 19 years of experimentation and while it does not completely solve the problem it is effective when used within 48 hours after the disease is contracted. Within that period it is as effective and positive as the serum used for diphtheria, Dr. Rosenow said.

Dr. A. T. McCormack, secretary of the Kentucky state board of health, said the demonstration made by Dr. Rosenow was "pretty conclusive."

Arabs Find New Work

Motor Car Has Changed History Of The Bedouins

The London Sunday Express says the Bedouins in Arabia have, from time immemorial, lived by transporting goods across the desert on their camels. To-day the motor car is displacing the camel as the ship of the desert. So the Bedouins are seeking a new livelihood. In the Arab kingdoms they have begun to grow corn where it never grew before. They are settling down and building cities for the first time. The motor car is changing the map of the world. It is changing the history of the people.

FASHION FANCIES

SMART DRESS FOR LARGER FIGURES

By Ellen Worth

The jabot collar particularly suggests youthful line.

What a lovely feeling getting into a new winter dress on crisp fall days. This season they seem to be smarter than ever.

To-day's model is a charming style for women of fuller figure, for it has slenderizing qualities with its V-neck, jabot collar and has bias seams across the hips.

The original was in dark plaid lightweight woolen with matching lustrous satin collar.

The two surfaces of black satin back crepe would work out beautifully in this easily made model.

Black wool-like silk crepe with white satin collar is also a very smart scheme for a dress.

Style No. 448 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48-inches bust. Size 36 requires 4 yards of 36-inch material with 3/4 yard of 39-inch contrasting for three quarter sleeve dress.

Patterns 15c each. Address mail orders to: Pattern Department, Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Rear Admiral Byrd Says Dominion Flies Best For Arctic Exploration

A tribute to Canada's north country flyers was paid at Toronto by Rear-Admiral Byrd, famous United States Antarctic explorer. Replying to Mayor Simpson's welcome at the city hall, Admiral Byrd said Canadians knew more of polar flying than any other pilots. Long experience flying over snow and ice and in sub-zero weather made them excellent pilots for Arctic or Antarctic expeditions, he said.

Strange City In Arabia

Streets Of Lamu Lined With Ruins Of Many Palaces

Lamu, an ancient Arabian city of mystery, is built on a little island not far from Mombasa, in the Kenya Colony. The streets of this strange municipality, which are so narrow that the sun scarcely even shines in them, are lined with the ruins of many palaces. The inhabitants of Lamu are descendants of the old Persians who founded a colony on the island about A.D. 700, and are very proud of their aristocratic origin and traditions, for more than a thousand years ago their ancestors had produced great poets, architects and jewelers. The population makes a living by cultivating coco-palms, by fishing and collecting ambergris.

A Rainbow Snow Storm

Beautiful Layers Of Varied Colors Fell On Australian Alps

Colored snow fell on the Australian Alps for the second time this winter. It changed the landscape around Hotham Heights from white to colorful within a few hours, while at Mt. Buller the inhabitants woke to see a bright red layer on the snow, half an inch deep. By noon heavy snow had blotted out the red layer. The most remarkable fall was at St. Bernard's Hospice, where pink snow fell in two layers, an inch and a half thick, with a 6-inch strip glittering white snow sandwiched in between.

Free Samples of Vick's Aids To Better Control of Colds Offered by Local Druggists

Trial Packages Contain Vicks Vapo-trol, Vicks VapoRub And a Home Guide to Fewer and Shorter Colds — Druggists Also Have Free Samples of Vicks Medicated Cough Drops

Thousands of Canadian families have already gained greater freedom from colds—with the help of the famous Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds.

Developed by the masters of Vicks, these aids to fewer and shorter colds are commonsense and medically sound. It is based on 30 years of practical experience and research by Vicks Chemists, specializing in the study of colds. Its worth has been demonstrated not only in everyday home use, but in extensive clinical tests under medical supervision.

And now—to introduce Vicks Plan to more families in this region—local druggists are distributing free trial packages containing complete details of the Plan and samples of the Vicks Colds-Control Aids.

Aid In Preventing Many Colds
Discovery of Vicks Vapo-trol, unique aid in preventing colds, made Vicks Plan possible. Especially designed for the nose and upper throat—where most colds start—Vapo-trol aids and stimulates Nature's own functions to prevent many colds, and to throw off head colds in the early stages.

Vapo-trol is easy and convenient to use—any time or place. Just a few drops up each nostril at the first nasal irritation, snuffle or sneeze. Used in time, it helps to avoid many colds.

Family Standby for Relieving Colds
If a cold has developed, or strikes without warning, Vicks Vapo-Rub—the family standby for relieving colds—helps to end it quicker. Simply rubbed on throat and chest at bedtime, Vapo-Rub acts two ways at once: (1) By stimulation through the skin, like a poultice or plaster; (2) By inhalation of its penetrating medicated vapors direct to inflamed air-passages.

Through the night, this combined vapor-poultice action loosens phlegm, soothes irritated membranes, helps vapors direct to inflamed air-passages, breaks congestion. Often by morning, the worst of the cold is over. (Ever since the introduction of Vapo-Rub, millions of people have used it as they would a cough drop, by melting a little on the tongue. Now, in Vicks Medicinal Compound Drops, the throat-soothing ingredients of Vapo-Rub are available in convenient candy form for ready use.)

Get Your Free Samples Today
Don't forget—your druggist has a few free trial packages of these Vicks Aids to Better Control of Colds. See him today, before they're all gone. The free packages contain all the information you need for following Vicks Plan. Treat the samples then prove what Vicks Plan can do for you and your family. You'll find it easy to follow in your own home.

Accept in Principle Livestock Marketing Scheme Of Producers

Ottawa.—The Dominion marketing board Sunday announced acceptance in principle of livestock marketing schemes proposed by producers in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta but emphasized they were still subject to revision.

Alberta and Saskatchewan producers proposed restrictions on free handling of livestock to regulate at country points initial assembly of stock from producers who market small numbers at a time and to insure as far as possible the lowest transportation cost by full car loadings.

They proposed through this means to facilitate orderly flow of stock to terminal markets, reducing glutting and eliminating at terminal markets what they call abuses arising out of injuria, trucker and transient drover competition and generally reducing waste and excess costs.

Producers from all three provinces proposed to divert over-supply from crowded markets to some other market, making the diversion as large as necessary to keep prices from being unduly depressed.

In this connection they proposed a special levy on all livestock marketed to compensate individual owners of diverted stock in the event the final sale of their animals should bring smaller prices than were received for equivalent grades or classes on the market from which the diversion was made.

Bravery Of Constable

Shot Out Lights Of Bandits' Car After Being Fatally Wounded

Calgary.—Bravery of Royal Canadian Mounted "Police Constable George C. Harrison after being fatally wounded by three young gun men near Canmore, Alta., probably saved the lives of two of his companions, Constables G. E. Coombe and Grey Campbell, it was stated in a report submitted to detachment headquarters by Sergeant J. W. Casway.

Shot in the neck as he approached the bandit car with Sergeant T. S. Wallace, who also suffered fatal wounds from a volley of revolver and rifle fire, Harrison toppled into the ditch and from there calmly shot out both headlights of the gunmen's car.

This action plunged the scene into darkness and the fugitives were unable to see the other officers. Harrison emptied his gun, reloaded and emptied it again before losing consciousness.

New Jersey Court Decides Hauptmann's Sentence Must Stand

Trenton, N.J.—The highest court in New Jersey—the court of errors and appeals—upheld the death sentence conviction of Bruno Richard Hauptmann for the kidnaping-murder of young Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr.

Appeals to this court are usually denied unless there are extenuating circumstances.

He may also appeal for a new trial on the basis that new evidence has been discovered. And he may also appeal to the supreme court of the United States. His attorneys have said they will carry the case to this last and highest tribunal.

Adjust Payments To Members Of 1930 Wheat Pools

Winnipeg.—Negotiations have been completed with the Canadian wheat board for the taking over of all wheat and contracts from the Canadian Co-operative Wheat Producers, Limited, L. C. Brouillette, president of the central board, stated here.

The transaction makes possible adjustment of payments to members of the 1930 pools who received an initial payment of less than 60 cents a bushel for their wheat, basis No. 1 Northern, Fort William, and to members of the coarse grain pools who received less than the initial price.

"If the 1930 pool carryover had been thrown on the market it would have been impossible to have carried on stabilization operations undertaken by the government agency under

Greece Restores Monarchy

Not A Shot Fired When Controversy Ended With Dramatic Suddenness

Athens.—Greece rejected her 11-year-old republic in a swift royalist coup d'état, capped by a routing vote of the national assembly restoring the monarchy.

Amid scenes of wild rejoicing in the national assembly building—once the royal palace—the nation's lawmakers decreed the return of King George II. from exile in England.

Then, despite their approval of restoration, the assemblymen decided to go on with the nation-wide plebiscite on the question November 3 in order to give the people a chance to express their opinion.

General George Kondylis, who seized the reins of government in a swift and bloodless strike, was named regent until the king comes back.

In London the king, who abandoned the throne December 18, 1923, dined calmly at his hotel with his aide-de-camp, Major Levidis, and awaited officials news of the restoration.

Crowds in the packed assembly galleries joined in wild applause for the vote of restoration. The archbishop of Athens, who previously had blessed the proceedings, led the rejoicing.

Kondylis, the former minister of war, ended the controversy over restoration of the monarchy with dramatic suddenness. He forced the resignation of the government of Premier Tsaldaris, proclaimed martial law and three troops about public buildings. But not a shot was fired.

In London the king, who abandoned the throne December 18, 1923, dined calmly at his hotel with his aide-de-camp, Major Levidis, and awaited officials news of the restoration.

Well Known Engineer Dead

H. N. Spicer Made Trip Across Australia In 1894

New York.—Harold Norman Spicer, 74, director of the Denver Engineering, Inc., engineers, and widely known in mining circles, is dead. Mr. Spicer was a member of the first party of white men to cross Australia from east to west, making the trip in 1894 while engaged in metallic and general mining in the Australian gold fields. He had engaged in metallurgical work in virtually every country of the world with the exception of South America. Mr. Spicer was born at Bradshot Hall, Hants, England.

Fortune Found In Box

New York.—Workmen cleaning a sewer unearthed a strongbox filled with bonds, stocks, mortgage certificates and real estate deeds with a total value believed to exceed $100,000. Borough President Samuel Levy of Manhattan planned to turn the box with its contents over to police to trace its ownership.

Ontario County Keeps Law

Whitby, Ont.—"Although there are 45,000 people in Ontario county, we have no law-breakers," Crown Attorney G. D. Conant told Mr. Justice R. D. Hogg when his lordship opened the fall assizes. There were no criminal cases for the court.

Project Again Inaugurated

Saskatchewan Lambs May Be Shipped To East For Finishing

Regina.—The Dominion lamb feeding project which has been operating in Saskatchewan for the past two years has again been inaugurated for 1935.

Under this policy Saskatchewan lambs may be shipped to eastern Canada to be fed and fattened and finished for market.

The sheep ranchers of the Maple Creek area who are members of Southern Saskatchewan Wool Growers' Association, are co-operating with the Dominion government and are consigning lambs for eastern feeding under the rancher-feeder agreement.

Farmers who are approved under the plan will not be required to lay out any cash. Freight charges to the eastern feed lots will be prepaid by the Dominion department of agriculture, reimbursement being made from the proceeds of sale when the lambs are marketed.

Under the rancher-feeder agreement for 1935, the feeder receives the value of all the gain in weight, plus 60 per cent. of the spread after freight and marketing charges have been deducted.

The rancher receives $3.75 per hundredweight (moose jaw weights) plus 40 per cent. of the spread.

Cost of Sanctions

Canada's Trade With Italy Will Suffer, Says Report

Ottawa.—Application of League of Nations sanctions against Italy would cost Canada loss of export trade worth $3,280,000 last year, official trade figures disclose.

Canada's trade with Italy, fostered by a most-favored-nation treaty signed in 1923, brought $2,300,000 worth of Italian goods to this country last year. During the first five months this year the Dominion sent Italy $1,887,892 worth of goods and received from the Mediterranean kingdom $1,422,284 worth.

Figures show 47.2 per cent. of the Dominion's exports to Italy for the fiscal year ended last March were raw materials while 19.4 per cent. were partially manufactured and 33.4 per cent. fully manufactured.

Ability To Repay Kindness

Farmers Send Vegetables To Dried-Out Areas In North

Amulet, Sask.—Not forgetting the people who so generously supplied vegetables in this district for so many years, the farmers were able to repay their kindness to some extent this fall.

They brought in several dozen bags of carrots which were taken to Ogema by truck. From there they will be shipped to dried-out areas in the north.

Roosevelt's Sons In Crash

Bozeman.—Two sons of President Roosevelt, John and James, crashed through a guard rail at a grade crossing in John's light car here in the path of an oncoming electric train. John was badly shaken up, but his eldest brother emerged unscathed from the accident.

AN AMAZING DEMONSTRATION BY FIRE WALKER

An unusual demonstration took place in London recently when, under the direction of the University of London Council for Physical Investigation, an Indian named Kuda Bux walked across a pit containing red hot wood charcoal, and when the temperature was 800 degrees Fahrenheit, Kuda Bux walked barefoot across the pit and back again without sustaining any harm or burns. Here we see him performing the feat which amazed the spectators.

Italian Suspects Arrested

Bank Director Among Others Held By Malta Police

Valetta, Malta.—British authorities arrested a number of suspects on espionage charges, among them Sig. Farodi, director of the Italian Banca di Roma branch in Malta.

Three suspects were rounded up after three Italians and a British subject were arrested. The British subject was the son of an Italian and worked for an Italian Steamship Company. Police raided the offices of several Italian shipping companies, but except for the arrests would give no information on their activity. Three Italians were expelled from Malta after having been arrested several days before for anti-British activity and suspicion of espionage.

Rome.—Arrest of nine Italian subjects at authorities of Malta, British base of Sicily in the Mediterranean, for reasons not made public, was reported without confirmation in informed Italian quarters. The report aroused irritation, but officials declined comment.

Meteorite Fires Straw Stack

Thrashing Machine Saved By Quick Action Of Men

Vegreville, Alta.—Rain and snow halted thrashing operations on many farms but the peak in astronomical temperatures was reached on the farm of C. W. Campbell near here when a meteorite crashed into the straw pile, set it afire, sent frightened horses galloping to distant fields. The separator owner, S. A. Sanford, organized his bewildered men and the thrashing machine was pulled to safety from the burning straw. A fireguard was hurriedly plowed to protect the stooked corn and buildings.

By-Election In Alberta

Edmonton.—By-election will be held in Athabasca and Okotoks-High River provincial constituencies on November 14 to provide seats in the legislature for Premier Aberhart and Hon. C. C. Ross, minister of lands and mines, it was announced by Premier Aberhart.

Canadian Delegate Advises Quick Action In Applying Sanctions

Geneva.—The League of Nations took the first step in the application of sanctions against belligerent Italy by imposing a general arms embargo on that country and lifting all restrictions on the flow of arms and ammunition to Ethiopia.

Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, one of the Canadian delegates to the league, moved in the committee of 16 that this step be taken. The committee, formed to expedite the problem of handling sanctions, approved and then the large co-ordinating committee agreed.

Mr. Ferguson, Canadian high commissioner to London, called for prompt action in applying sanctions during the discussion of the resolution.

"Let's do it quickly, or nothing at all can be done," he said.

The arms embargo on Ethiopia was lifted by all league members except Hungary, Germany, the Dominion Republic, Guatemala, Paraguay, El Salvador, Albania and Italy. Only Hungary and Albania opposed the move in the co-ordinating committee. Austria did not declare her position.

Besides naming the committee of 16, with Canada as a member, the co-ordinating committee of all members of the league assembly elected Italy and Ethiopia appointed a sub-committee of seven to study the possibility of a financial boycott against Italy.

A resolution adopted by the large group recommended any league state restricting the shipment of arms to Ethiopia should immediately "lift such an embargo."

Spending Millions On Arms

France Announces Program For Armament Production In 1936

Paris.—Marcel Regnier, minister of finance, announced that France was spending 5,439,000,000 francs ($564,650,000) on armaments in 1936.

"When Europe and the whole world is ringing with the sound of arms," he told the chamber of deputies' finance committee, "it is no time to renounce financial sacrifices."

Emergency arms appropriations are added to the regular army, navy and aviation budgets.

With these additions, the national defence expenditures will be 12,142,000,000 francs ($801,372,000).

New Royal Prince

No Name Yet Announced For Son Of Duke And Duchess Of Kent

London.—Great Britain's new-born prince was thriving, according to latest reports from the residence of the Duke and Duchess of Kent. It was officially announced that the child's weight was 6½ pounds.

The child's name has not yet been announced. There will be four Christian names, most likely including George and Edward. They will be chosen by his royal parents and will be submitted to the king for his approval.

Italian Spokesman Says Naval Blockade Would Mean War

Geneva.—After the League of Nations had taken its historic step toward the enforcement of sanctions against Italy, an Italian spokesman told the Associated Press that if a naval blockade were employed to back up sanctions "it would mean war."

Italy, he disclosed, plans upon getting necessities from Germany through Austria and does not fear economic sanctions. Oil, he added, can be obtained "from some other nation" which could send it to Italy through the reich.

This informant said Italians are enraged and depressed over the assembly's stand against their nation.

"Why will the world not recognize Italy is stifling, unto death and needs an outlet," he asked. "Why doesn't it realize it must remove the cause of war and give Italy some great open space where Italians may breathe?"

Almost solidly the members of the League of Nations arraigned Italy as an aggressor in her conflict with Ethiopia.

Thus the league will aid Emperor Haile Selassie to arm his poorly equipped warriors but will hinder Premier Mussolini from replenishing his munitions needs from foreign markets. Haile Selassie has repeatedly protested against an arms embargo upon his country, pointing out Ethiopia has no munition factories, while Italy has several.

"One can only shudder at the off-hand way in which foreshadowing and disastrous measures are being rushed through here," an Italian spokesman told the Associated Press.

Asked if Italian warships would attempt to block shipment of arms to Ethiopia by halting and searching merchant ships, he shrugged and said: "Why begrudge the Ethiopians their weapons? Let them buy more arms—although they are heavily armed already. But to buy they must have money. Who will lend them cash?"

The resolution passed by the big committee contains one paragraph designed to block any effort by Mussolini to get war supplies through neighboring anti-sanction states such as Austria. The paragraph states that the members of the league will "take such steps as may be necessary" to prevent re-export "directly or indirectly," of arms to Italy or its possessions.

It also decided to appoint a special committee to examine the prospects for a financial boycott against Italy. This body will inquire into the possible placing of an embargo on all loans and credits made by foreign nations to Italy.

Climate Hard On Soldiers

Sailor Reports Fever Killing Off Italians In Africa

Halifax.—Tropical diseases are killing off Italy's soldiers in Africa "like flies," according to Captain John Smith, Scottish master of the motorship Cingalese Prince.

Hundreds of those escaping death, the speaker said, were being stricken stone blind. Shiploads of others, seized with fever though not fatally, were being sent home hors de combat.

He had met some of fever-ridden soldiers returning as he passed through the Mediterranean this month, Captain Smith said. He had been told of the many deaths and of the mysterious blindness by doctors at Port Said and Mowsoo, port of disembarkment for the Roman legions.

The told him, he asserted, that men would be in full health in the morning and dead in the afternoon from fever's swift ravages. The Italian medical corps was described as baffled to identify some of the diseases.

Alberta Legislature

Edmonton.—Tentative date for opening of the first session of Alberta's new legislature has been set for next February 6, it was announced by Premier Aberhart.

full consent to sanctions against Italy. Of the remaining 10 countries in the assembly, five were league (including Germany), two opposed the idea of sanctions and one—Switzerland—made reservations. The other two were the disputants themselves.

The attitude of Austria and Hungary in opposing the action of the league caused grave concern in league quarters.

Despite their non-acceptance of the council's report, they were invited to sit on the sanctions committee, along with all league states except the belligerents.

Officials said pressure would probably be brought to bear upon Hungary and Austria to prevent transit across their soil from neutral countries, like Germany, of war and other material destined for Italy.

Impressive was the note in speeches that there was no idea behind sanctions of punishing people. The dominating note was that Italy should be "brought to her senses" and shown that in these days "war is out of fashion," as one delegate said.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

NEXT THURSDAY the eleventh annual musical festival of the Crows Nest Pass will open. It is an important event in the lives of the younger people as well as older folks. Started in 1925 as a local Sunday school festival, by the Rev. W. T. Young, a former Blairmore minister, it has increased in cultural value and importance. It receives encouragement from school boards, councils, fraternal organizations and the public generally who appreciate the value of music in the lives of all.

ORIGINALLY it was intended that the festival should alternate in the towns of Blairmore, Pincher Creek and Coleman. Naturally, with its development an efficient organization has been built which takes pride in its achievements from year to year. Throughout the depression years, the festival increased in importance, attracting competitors from much further afield than the festivals of ten and eleven years ago. There is much to be said for those who have given the business side of the festival their special attention, for it takes a considerable sum each year to stage it. Had it not been for their active interest, the unwelcome picture of deficits might have been shown in the annual reports. But such has not been the case, and though revenues have fallen off some years through various causes, yet the festival has been financed entirely on donations and revenue from admissions to the festival concerts.

COLEMAN in later years has given good support and competitors have compared favorably with those from other towns. Last year more liberal financial support was given, which it is hoped will be maintained this year. Some representative men have urged that the festival be held here next year. With this suggestion The Journal is in accord, provided the same result could be attained. In fact the constitution of the festival committee provides for this, but the reason it has not been held outside of Blairmore is owing to there not having been a committee sufficiently enthusiastic to carry it through. It requires considerable time in organization work, and during the days of the festival the services of a number of business men are required.

THIS SUGGESTION may well be discussed at the annual meeting which will be held before the close of the year, when a banquet open to all interested in the festival will be held. To handle the business side of the festival is no light task, besides which the maximum results from concert admissions are necessary. However, the proposal may provoke some interesting discussion, and may help to arouse increased interest on the part of the general public, for their support is necessary to its continued success.

DESPITE ELECTION laws being framed to enable every qualified voter to exercise his or her franchise, there is always fussing and fuming on election day because someone's name had been left off the voters' list. An irate voter or worker will get "all het up" and denounce anybody and everybody who had anything to do with compiling the lists, but entirely overlook the fact that had the voters themselves been interested, as they should be, in seeing that their names had been added at the appointed time, they would not be blaming anyone. In cities and places where there are live political organizations, they will carefully scrutinize the lists and see that all eligible voters are registered. In the country, people take it for granted that their name will be on the list, without taking any trouble to find out. Then on election day when they find out their imagined importance in the scheme of things has been overlooked, they just go clean up in the air, and blame everyone but themselves.

HISTORY REPEATS itself. The Dominion elections result in as complete a turnover in 1935 as in 1930. King changes places with Bennett; a third party movement passes out of existence in the elimination of the U. F. A. party from Alberta political life and another party, Social Credit, takes its place in Federal representation. All the promised reforms of the defunct third party did not materialize, simply because no matter which government is in power, Canada still sticks closely to party lines. The Liberals go into power with a majority large enough to withstand the opposition of all other parties. The old "Ginger" group of the U. F. A. fought well, but experience the ingratitude and disappointment which is the lot of all politicians and those who give of their time and energy in public service. Despite golden hued promises, Utopia will not be brought into existence on this planet.

DEMOCRACY has again spoken. Elections are held not to vote a government in, but to vote a government out of office. The Federal and provincial elections prove the truth of the statement as far as some parts of the Dominion are concerned, not the least of which is Alberta. Now the lion and the lamb can lay down together; in other words, we can bury the hatchet, with the handle left sticking up so we can grab it handily in another five years.

Girl Missing

The youngster in the Art Gallery looked long and earnestly at the painting. Then he read the inscription. "Do you like it?" asked his mother. "Oh, I like it well enough," he answered, "but I don't understand it." "What is it you don't understand?" "Why, it says, 'Wild Horses—after Rosa Bonheur.' I can see the horses all right, but where's the girl they're after?"

Obscure Seamstress Weaving Silk Strands On Linc's Compass Card

Important contribution to the safety of the new giant liner, Queen Mary, is being made by a little seamstress living in obscurity at Glasgow, Scotland.

She is Miss Edith Rankin, of Ben View street, to whom has been allotted the task of weaving gossamer strands of silk on the magnetic compass card, made of flexible material.

Lightness with strength are necessary with the compass card and these strands, which must be perfectly even, achieve the purpose. This accomplished, Miss Rankin's delicate fingers then sew on the magnetic needles.

"They have to be adjusted to a thousandth of an inch," Miss Rankin said. "A fractional error in fixing the needles can put a ship off her course."

Miss Rankin works to this astonishing accuracy with the aid only of ordinary spectacles.

After years at the job she can tell almost instinctively by her fingers whether the magnetic needles are exactly in place.

Ships all over the world use compasses which have passed through her hands. "Does it thrill you?" she was asked.

"I suppose it ought to," was the reply.

Claims X-Ray Eyes

Heavily Bandaged Kashmiri Indian Read Book He Had Never Seen

With his head swathed in bandages save for an aperture for the nose, Kuda Xua, a Kashmiri Indian, read rapidly from a book he had never seen before several eminent doctors in London recently. They included Professor Edward Andrade, Quaker, Professor of Physics at London University, Dr. J. G. Porter-Phillips, superintendent of the Bethlehem Hospital, and Dr. C. Jennings Marshall, the surgeon. Dr. Marshall bandaged the Indian placing two humps of sticky dough over the eyes.

On these was laid a large pad of cotton round which a broad bandage was tied over the face, on either side of the nose, and another passed over the mouth. Kuda Xua is known as "the man with the X-ray eyes."

"Last Sabbath," said an elder with glaze, "as Kirk was coming out, a drover chiel from Dumfries came along the road whistling as happy as if it was the middle of the week. Weel, coo, is a God-fearing set o' lads, and they nearly killed him."

Household Arts

Personality—the chief feature of a good mascot or an adored toy. Here it is in this curly-eared, curly-tailed dog. Maybe he's a Pomeranian, perhaps a spaniel, but he's certainly a full-blooded when it comes to being a joucous toy. His tail is a lovely handle—his floppy ears are seen in as securely even pulling can't dislocate them! And his tail is just as part as this when you make the dog, for it's properly stuffed. As a mascot, he'd be lovely in a gay print or real loud velvet—mascots must be heard, of course!

The Ultimate In Quietness

Taking Off Hat Makes Noise In Soundproof Room

The new Hayden Planetarium in New York is so quiet that you can hear a man take off his hat in the place, and when he takes off his coat he makes a distinct racket.

The planetarium, sound-proofed by acoustical devices, was opened Oct. 3 and the tests of its quietness are astounding.

In terms of decibels, it is 15 times less noisy than the volume of sound which a normal ear can barely hear. Sounding recording instruments showed a jump of five decibels when a man took off his hat in the place.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

OCTOBER 20

THE MESSAGE OF JEREMIAH

Golden text: Hearken unto my voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people. Jeremiah 7:13. Lesson: Jeremiah 7:1-26. Devotional reading: Psalm 96:7-13.

Explanations And Comments

False and True Security, verses 1-7. Jeremiah stood in the gateway of the temple at Jerusalem and warned the people that true religion lay in amending their ways and not in mere ritual. The temple could not have them. The threshold repetition of the words "the temple of Jehovah" suggests the energy of iteration that belongs only to Eastern fanatics, Dean Stanley observes. Recall the repeated cries of the fanatic in the theater of Ephesus, "Great is Diana of the Ephesians," Act 19.

Rampant Evil, verses 8-11. Jeremiah did not hesitate to accuse the people of flagrant sin, whatever the consequences to himself might be of such boldness. He accused them of breaking the commandments against theft, adultery, false witnessing, and idolatry, and keeping up a pretense of worshipping God, coming to the temple and saying, "We are delivered," by the discharge of this formality we are set free for the return to wickedness.

In this house, which is called by my name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, even I, have seen it, saith Jehovah. Recall Christ's words in Mark 11:15-17.

To Obey Is Better Than Sacrifice, verses 18-23. "Add your burnt-offerings upon your sacrifices, and eat your flesh: multiplying your victims ad libitum! It will avail you naught!" (Dummelow). The next verse need not be more than "a forcible oratorical expression, not meaning that no ceremonial laws were given to Israel when brought out of Egypt, but that in the promulgation of the Ten Commandments on Sinai there was no direction concerning sacrifice" (Dummelow).

Harken unto my voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people; and walk ye in all the way that I command you, that it may be well with you.

The Champion Tea Drinker

Bristol Woman Never Takes Less Than Thirty Cups A Day

The average tea consumption of the people of Great Britain is about five cups each every day of their lives. As this figure includes babies and those few who never drink it at all, it is obvious that the consumption must be higher than that.

Enquiries recently made in London and elsewhere have disclosed that a daily consumption of ten and twelve cups is by no means uncommon, and that there are many people who habitually drink even more than that. So far the champion tea drinker appears to be a woman living in Bristol who claims that she never drinks less than thirty cups a day, and that she has never been ill in her life. Even Dr. Johnson drank only twenty cups a day.

The world's tallest man must surely be Hans Shihler, who, not long ago at the age of twenty measured 7 feet 6 inches in height. He was examined by doctors who believe that according to his record, he will reach nine feet before he stops growing. It takes six and a half yards of material to make him a suit. All his relatives are normal in height. Hans' ambition is to become a film star. A club was founded recently in Yorkshire for men who were over 72 inches in height. They clubbed together to protest against small chairs, inadequate leg-room in cinemas, and dwarfed head-room in trams and buses.

Carrier Of Disease Germs

Carelessness In Home Is Blamed By Toronto Doctor

Dust on the street may be a nuisance but as a carrier of disease germs, it is practically negligible according to Dr. Ogdon P. Jackson, M.O.H. Neither are disease-causing germs transmitted by air to any extent he told the York County Home and School Council at a meeting in Toronto.

In a comprehensive address on communicable diseases, he declared there was too much carelessness in handling of food in the home.

The "dumb-in-the-soup" was much too prevalent and frequently responsible for such diseases as dysentery, typhoid and diphtheria. Because of germs often carried through soil fertilization, it was essential that all greens be thoroughly washed. Cups, glasses, bedding and papers were often menaces in spreading disease because they had been contaminated by some person.

SYNOPSIS

Nancy Nelson is a sub-deb, a gay, irresponsible girl of nineteen, with no care beyond the choice of her costume for her coming-out party. Suddenly, in the market crash, her indulgent father loses all he had, and his family is faced with the necessity of a simpler mode of life. At this juncture a letter is received from an eccentric relative in Colorado, who offers the girl's home on what seems to be impossible conditions.

After much consideration Cousin Columbine's offer is accepted, and Nancy and Jack arrive at Pine Ridge. Nancy set out one afternoon to climb to the top of a hill so as to obtain a view of the surrounding landscape and miss the path Aurora Tubbs had told her to follow. A truck comes along the road, driven by Matthew Adams, and she asks him which way to go. They ascend the hill, look around, and then go on to Cousin Columbine's. There Mark Adam tells Nancy that his brother Luke has broken his leg, and that Jack Nelson has been hired to help out while Luke's leg gets better. With Jack away, Nancy finds that she is lonesome, and having no books to read, the idea of starting a public library at Pine Ridge seems a good one, and Nancy writes home to get her parents to send all the books they could spare and all they could induce others to let them have.

Nancy's parents and friends gave their liberal support to the project for books, and a sizeable box arrived in due course. Father Adam painted a sign for the library, and the Adams boys worked on the shelves for the books and decorations to make the room look presentable.

Jack Nelson, Matthew Adams, and Nancy go to the prairie home of Matthews' uncle for the ride, and after Nancy and Jack leave for home, they are caught in a blizzard. Blinded by the swirling snow they collide with a bus full of school children, which was stalled across the road with its back wheels resting in a snow-filled gully. Their car being wrecked, Jack and Nancy stay with the children and do all they can to help. The next morning Jack sets out for help in the blizzard. He succeeds in finding help, and the party of children and Nancy are rescued. At a result of the exposure Nancy's feet are badly frozen, and Jack is seriously ill with pneumonia, but both of them recover.

dreiful hours of cold and hunger—those helpless children—Jack facing the blizzard all alone. And suddenly Nancy Nelson was just a little girl again, a frightened little girl who yearned for the comfort that had never failed her when life seemed cruel—and life had never been so cruel before. She said, "I want voice breaking a little: 'I want—I want my mother.'"

"Thank God!" said the nurse; and the tall shadow in the doorway turned into Matthew Adams—a gaunt and haggard Matthew to be sure, but comfortably familiar amid the strangeness. Two quick strides brought him to Nancy's bed, and bending down he lifted one of her hands gently.

"Thank God!" he said, just like the white nurse; and then anticipating the question she was too weak to ask: "Jack got there, Nancy. He reached Bartlett's before we did, but the wires were down so Mrs. Bartlett couldn't call for help, and her husband was hunting for cattle in the drifts. But if Jack hadn't gone there's no knowing when we'd have found you, Nancy. He was all in, but he came, but—he will be all right."

This was Matt's verdict, not the doctor's; nor did he add that Jack was only a room away, fighting pneumonia. Time enough for that knowledge when she was stronger. Then the nurse warned: "That's all for now, Mr. Adams," and Nancy opened her eyes, which had grown sleepy, and asked: "The children?"

"All safe," Matt answered; then, as a cry of pain escaped her, "Oh, Nancy! is it as bad as that?"

"It was very bad indeed, but with returning strength came self-control, and though there were times in the hours to come when her face twitched with anguish, no whimper passed the girl's lips again.

"Let me for a while to find Cousin Columbine beside her bed."

"How do you feel, child?" The crisp old voice was shaken with emotion. Nancy scarcely recognized it.

"How's—Jack?" she asked. "I'm stronger than Jack, I . . ."

"The weak words lagged, and Cousin Columbine said quickly: 'Your brother's making a brave fight, child. I always said he had the courage of a pioneer. And you have too, Nancy. I—I am so proud of you.'"

Nancy said nothing for a little while. Scarcely from those tragic hours were crowding back.

"You were right—about the—the weather, Cousin Columbine," she admitted in a curious, small voice. And then, a tear slipping from beneath her lashes: "I wish . . ."

"What do you wish, dear?" asked the old lady, bending closer.

Nancy tried to smile, but found herself too spent to manage it. "I'm only a—a little homesick," she acknowledged.

A nurse came in just then with a strange doctor; and Cousin Columbine went out. They looked at her legs, and brought another doctor to look at them. Nancy wondered what they were thinking, but was too tired to ask and dropped asleep before they left the room.

It was night when she opened her eyes again. A dim light burned, and a different nurse was there, and a new doctor. No, it wasn't a doctor; Nancy saw after a moment. It was just Matt Adams. She heard the woman say to tell Miss Nelson that her niece was sleeping, and that after a consultation the doctors felt that after all, she wouldn't lose her feet.

Now how in the world, mused Nancy, only half awake, could you lose your feet even if you wanted to? That nurse was crazy. She spoke as if her feet could be mistaid like a pair of gloves or a pocketbook or something! The idea made her almost laugh. Then, realizing that Matthew was about to leave, a wave of homesickness swept over her again, and she protested.

"Don't go, Matt!"

Again the unexpected voice startled her; but Matthew came close, and stood there looking down at her. Then some one turned up a light, and Nancy saw how unbelievably tired he was.

"Batter?" His voice was heavy with fatigue and long anxiety.

Nancy nodded.

"Where's—Cousin Columbine?"

"In bed. It's pretty late. She's staying down here to keep an eye on you."

"And—Jack?"

There was a noticeable pause before Matt answered steadily: "Don't worry about Jack, Nancy. That's the kid's dandiest fighter you ever saw!"

The nurse turned at this, and going to a window, did something unnecessary to the curtain; while Matthew, bending down, said quietly: "Is there anything I can do before I go, Nancy?"

"You're so tired, Matt," she answered with relevance.

He smiled at that and didn't look so tired after all; but the girl said: "You won't drive up the pass to-night, will you? Promise you won't—or I'll worry."

"I promise. I'll stay down here with John. Mother thought Miss Columbine might need me in the morning for—or errands or something," he added hurriedly. "Now be a good girl, Nancy, and go to sleep."

"Couldn't you stay till I drop off?" she pleaded. "I'm kind of—homesick."

Matt glanced at the nurse, not knowing what rules there are in hospitals; and at a nod sat down by Nancy's bed.

"We can't let you be homesick," he told her gravely. "but you mustn't talk."

As the nurse (smiling in a manner that would have brought a blush to the young man's cheek if he hadn't been so utterly unconscious in that moment) turned down the light and left them for a little time, it seemed to Matt that all his weariness had dropped away. Nancy wanted him there! No matter what happened, he'd always have that to remember. He might be awkward and bashful where most girls were concerned, but now, when she was weak and suffering, the one girl in the world had asked him to stand by. After all, life was pretty wonderful, thought Matthew Adams, forgetting the thirteenth moment, the grim fight waging in the room beyond.

Attractive Home in Scotland

Furnishings of Balmoral Castle Described By Glasgow Paper
Balmoral Castle dining-room is very beautiful of an evening, says the Glasgow Herald. The walls of old parchment make a fitting background for many, but not too many, large paintings, mostly portraits of bygone royalties. Doors and woodwork are of natural unvarnished pinewood, which matches in tone the great carved oak sideboards at either end of the room.

Armchairs in the same pale wood are upholstered in red morocco; that catches up the color of the Turkey carpeting on the floor and the rich silken curtains at the wide windows. A thousand lights appear to twinkle from the great crystal chandelier above the table, and reflect their colors in the other crystal appointments such as finger-pieces and door-handles. The Queen remains true to white linen for table use and the fine damask has intervened in it the letters, "G. R." and a picture of the Castle.

Opening from this apartment is the smaller drawing-room. This is carpeted in rich lawn green, and has chairs and settees dressed in gaily patterned cretonnes that have a turquoise green foundation. The pictures here show many royal past and present, on canvases of eminent artists. Dogs of many breeds there are, and cats, canaries and parrots.

One large oil painting is of the Kaiser's green foundation. The pictures here show many royal past and present, on canvases of eminent artists. Dogs of many breeds there are, and cats, canaries and parrots.

One little pine-framed armchair, however, is different. It was Queen Victoria's favorite, and stands apart, upholstered in Royal Stuart tartan silk. The crystal candelabra in this long apartment are augmented by pedestals standing at intervals along the walls and bearing white marble figures of Highlanders very much in action. Each holds aloft a group of lights encased in crystal.

Preparations

BEFORE you take any preparation you don't know all about, for the fear of head-aches, the pains of rheumatism, neuritis or neuralgia, ask your doctor what he thinks about it—in comparison with "Aspirin."

We say this because, before the discovery of "Aspirin," most so-called "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as being bad for the stomach; or, often, for the heart. And the discovery of "Aspirin" largely changed medical practice.

Countless thousands of people who have taken "Aspirin" year in and out without ill effect, have proved that the medical findings about its safety were correct.

Remember this: "Aspirin" is rated among the fastest methods for the relief of headaches and all common pains . . . and safe for the average person to take regularly.

"Aspirin" Tablets are made in Canada. "Aspirin" is the registered trademark of the Bayer Company, Limited. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

Legend Of An Elephant

Burmese Think Marauder Is Reincarnation Of Old Villager

"Po Chaung" is usually a fierce, marauding rogue elephant, the terror of the Burmese jungle, who destroys crops wherever he goes. But when he comes to the field of Mogok (Burma) the villagers merely come out and say, "Po Chaung, please don't do it, we are poor; go away" and he obeys them. The legend goes that he is a reincarnation of an old Mogok villager who died some years ago and that is why he spares their crops.

The Vatican's great statue, "Sleeping Ariadne," is believed to be the only marble figure with eyelashes in the world.

FAMOUS SPAS

More and more the marvellous heritage of Canada is impressed upon Canadians.

More and more, Canadians talk about the wonders of Little Manitou Lake—whose curative waters abound in health giving minerals—more potent than the famous waters of Carlsbad, Europe—situated near Watrous, in the Province of Saskatchewan.

Tons of Salt Crystals gathered from this Canadian Lake—scientifically refined and presented in highly concentrated form—non-effervescent—are sold through your retail Druggist under the name of SASKALAK.

The famous waters of Carlsbad, Saksal is invaluable in the treatment of Rheumatism—Neuritis—Mild Stomach Disorders—Kidney and Liver troubles—Impure Blood—Skin Eruptions and Constipation.

If you are not enjoying vigorous health, or if you suffer from any of the above complaints—try a treatment of "Saksal." One size package—one price, five. Let us send you a FREE sample of SASKALAK. M1

Bride-Elect Honored

A delightful social event took place at the home of Mrs. M. W. Ferguson who was hostess at a shower given in honor of Miss Mary Kulig, bride-elect, on Wednesday evening, Oct. 9. 34 guests sat down to a sumptuous supper served by the hostess. Whist and Bingo were enjoyed by the guests present, prize winners at the whist being, Mrs. Neil McKinnon and Mrs. Roy Thomas. During the evening's festivities the guest of honor was presented with a number of beautiful presents, to which she made suitable reply.

Miss Kulig will be married on Saturday, next, to Mr. Joe Kubie of Blairmore. The happy couple will reside on a farm in the Cowley district. The beautiful three tier wedding cake has been made by Mrs. M. W. Ferguson who is presenting the cake to the bride elect as a wedding present.

A shower in honor of Miss Kulig was also held at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Alex. Kwasney, in West Coleman on Thursday last.

Thieves Break Into Warehouse

Thieves were again on the prowl early Wednesday morning when they gained entrance into the liquor warehouse at the back of the Elite Confectionery. They must have used a brace and bit to gain entrance as a hole about four inches square had been cut out of the panel in the door so that the thief could reach inside and operate the Yale lock.

Finding nothing of value in the office they set to work to gain entrance to the basement but must have been disturbed for they abandoned their nefarious work and faded into the night. Constable Antel is investigating the case.

Election Day Quiet Here

were swept aside as completely as in the provincial elections, probably sounding the death knell of the party after fourteen years of vigorous life.

It was a surprise victory, even ardent Liberals though confident of victory, not expecting such an overwhelming majority, which will enable them to carry on without co-operation or compromise with any other party. The Conservative party has the second largest group, exceeding the total of all parties in opposition to the Liberals.

The only incident approaching a celebration on election night was a few Liberals and Conservative meeting to console each other and relax after the day's work with some liquid refreshment while listening to radio returns. Walter Biela was the official host.

Local News

Jim Anderson is a patient in the local hospital recovering from an appendix operation.

Much favorable comment is being reported from Lester Patrick's amateur hockey team at Winnipeg regarding the fine performances of Duke Scodellero who has been holding a number of Western Canada's finest sharpshooters at bay with his brilliant play in the nets.

Sybil Jason is the 5 year old star in the feature play, "Little Big Shot," playing at the Palace on Tuesday and Wednesday next. She was born in Capetown, South Africa, and her ability was first revealed on the radio in London. She was brought to Hollywood by Warner Bros. Pictures, and this is her third picture. Other stars in the cast are Glenda Farrell, Robert Armstrong and Everett Horton.

A large number attended the funeral of John Koler, 49 years, who lived on Blairmore road, and died on Oct. 10. He was unmarried. Fraternal lodges were represented at the funeral, the service being held in Holy Ghost church with Rev. Father Dunbar officiating. Deceased had lived in Coleman for about nine years, and came originally from Czechoslovakia.
